Many Attend Greek Week Sing, Prom

• THE ANNUAL Inter-Fraternity Council Sing and Prom, highlights of Greek Week, proved big attractions again this year, drawing many hundreds of people to both affairs.

Twelve fraternities participated in the Sing, held Friday evening at Lisner auditorium. Top honors went to members of Delta Tau Delta, who sang "Little David, Play on Your Harp" and Delta Shelter. The Deltas were directed by Mike Gall. Phi Sigma Kappa won second prize for its rendition of "Lili Liza Jane" and "Phi Sig Drinking Song," with Bob Dolson as director. Sigma Alpha Epsilon placed third, singing "Pale in the Amber West" and "Violets," under the direction of Tony Ketcham.

Cups

Scholarship cups were also presented at the Sing. Alpha Epsilon Pi received the IFC cup for the highest overall scholastic average, and Tau Kappa Epsilon won the cup for showing the most improvement scholarship. The scholarship and Sing trophies were presented by Jack Crehore, retiring IFC President. Jake Todd, Tau Kappa Epsilon, was awarded the outstanding director's cup.

Milton Q. Ford, radio and television personality, emceed the first half of the show, with Pannel President Carol Hesse relieving him at intermission. Judges for the Sing were Major H. H. Copeland, Mr. Ralph L. Beuthin and Mr. Justin Lawrie.

The IFC Prom, held the following night from 9 to 11, filled the grand ballroom of the Willard Hotel to capacity. Music for the dance was provided by Art Calavas Orchestra.

Intermission featured the presentation of the much coveted Lacy Garter to Jane Rosenberger.

IFC

Also during intermission, Jack Crehore received the cup for the outstanding IFC delegate, and key awards were given to the retiring IFC officers. Mr. Crehore then introduced the new officers for 1956-57. They are: Dick Giesler, president; Bruce Mencher, vice president; Herb Silver, secretary; Dick Nelson, treasurer; Jim Lay, social chairman, and Norton Hardesty, publicity chairman.

Linton Gets Appointment

• DR. CALVIN D. LINTON has been appointed associate dean of the Columbian College.

Dr. Linton is relieving Dean Henry G. Doyle, dean of the Columbian College, of most administrative duties, so that Dean Doyle may devote more time to a special task of preparing codification of the University aims, policies and regulation.

The supervision and administration of the educational programs of the Columbian College as set up by the faculty are the primary functions of the associate dean. In addition, Dr. Linton will continue to teach courses in seventeenth century and contemporary English literature.

Dr. Linton received his A.B. from the University in 1935, and took his M.A. and Ph.D. at Johns Hopkins University. After five years service in the navy, he returned to the University in 1945 as professor of English literature. He retired from the navy as a lieutenant commander. He has served as assistant dean of the Columbian College since 1949.

Kayser Gives Lecture On Famous Woman

• IN FIVE CENTURIES of Roman rule over Egypt, Rome had to fear but two persons, some say: Hannibal and Cleopatra.

Dean Elmer L. Kayser summed up in this way, the impact and feeling towards Cleopatra throughout history. Dean Kayser delivered his now famous "Cleopatra" lecture last Wednesday to an overflow crowd in Lisner lounge.

Old Men Ask For Members

by Rhoda Exrin

• ATTENTION, ALL MALES! Old Men, the campus organization which aids in the orientation of male freshmen, needs you.

Deadline for Old Men petitions is tomorrow at 5 p.m. According to Jim Swisher, president, the group would like to receive a minimum of 20 petitions for executive board positions. About 30 petitions for membership have been

Spanish

• AN ORGANIZATIONAL meeting of Sigma Delta Pi, Spanish language honorary society, will be held Friday at 1:30 p.m. in Woodhull House.

Students who have a 3.0 average for three years of Spanish and one term of Spanish literature, and have an over-all Q.P.I. of 2.5, are eligible for membership. Prospective members may contact Peggy Nichols in Strong Hall.

received, although at least 100 are needed.

Eligibility requirements for membership include attendance at the University for at least one semester, participation in at least one other campus organization, which may be a social fraternity, and a minimum Q. P. I. of 2.0. Anyone who has been a member of Old Men for one year is eligible to serve on the executive board.

Old Men, formed last year, is the male counterpart of the Big Sis organization for women students. Petitions for Old Men may be turned in to Miss Jane Rosenberger, student activities assistant, in the Student Union annex.

3 Participate In Programs

• THE WORDS of three University students are penetrating the Iron Curtain through the facilities of the Voice of America.

Tatiana Akhoni, Patricia Allen and Otto Ulrich, selected by the University's department of Slavic languages and literatures, are participating in a series of informal interviews on the Voice of the Russian program. They were chosen as being representative American college students.

Mr. Ulrich was interviewed last March, and Miss Allen's interview was scheduled for recording yesterday. All three are studying Russian at the University, making it possible for at least part of their interviews to be conducted in Russian.

Mr. Constantine Grigorovich-Barasky of the Voice of America's Russian branch, who arranged the broadcasts with the University, plans similar interviews with two students from Georgetown University and two from Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

He also plans to record an interview with Lucille Anstine, a former member of the University's Student Council, on student government in American schools.

Although Cleopatra is known as an Egyptian, she actually was half Macedonian and half Greek, according to Dean Kayser. She was not a beautiful woman, but a vital looking one. Very ambitious, this facet of Cleopatra's character was probably responsible for some other attributes attributed to her.

Caesar

In about 68 B. C., Caesar, the strong man of the first triumvirate, came to Egypt. When Caesar called Cleopatra to him she sailed the river in a small boat, manned by one person. "She came, he saw, she conquered." They lived together for one year but the call of duty came to Caesar and he returned to Rome only to be killed on the Ides of March.

Mark Antony, one of the two surviving members of the second triumvirate, decided to come to Egypt. When Mark Antony summoned Cleopatra, she sailed the river to him in a barge, bespelled with gold trappings. "She came, he saw, she conquered."

Antony

A few years later Mark Antony took his life, after hearing a report that Cleopatra had died. She, however, had not. Octavius, the new conqueror of Egypt, came to see Cleopatra and hold her. He wished her in Rome with him. His wish never came to pass. Cleopatra was found, after a royal banquet, in the temple of Alexandria in regal robes of gold, dead. They say she suffered the bite of the asp, brought to her in a package of figs.

A few years before, Cleopatra had experimented with the poisons of snakes and other animals. The asp, Cleopatra found, produced a drowsiness and a peaceful painless sleep.

IFC Makes Key Awards

• IFC KEY AWARDS were made during the intermission of the IFC Prom, held last Saturday night at the Willard Hotel.

The following men were presented with the Key awards in recognition of their outstanding contributions to their fraternities and to the University: Jerry Reinsdorf, Alpha Epsilon Pi; Joe Allen, Delta Tau Delta; Jim Newheiser, Phi Sigma Kappa; Ed Crump, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Bob Olson, Sigma Phi Epsilon, and Jack Crehore, Theta Delta Chi.

Also during the intermission, the Gate and Key Society made the presentation of the Lacy Garter to Miss Jane Rosenberger, "Lord High Potentate of the Student Activities office." Last year's winner of the Garter of the Grand Order of the Lacy Garter First Class was Beverly Borden. The Garter is awarded annually to the women on campus who have done the most for the fraternity system at the University.

While a student at the University, student activities assistant Miss Jane Rosenberger was president of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority, and was a member of ISAB, Cherry Tree, Delphi and Rifle club.

Council Supervises Student Activities

• "VIRTUALLY ALL STUDENT activities are controlled by the Student Council. Therefore the strength of the activities program at the University is directly related to the strength of the Council," says Jerry Reinsdorf, Student Council advocate.

With Council petitions now being accepted and elections two weeks away, the HATCHET is beginning a series of articles on the activities and responsibilities of the officers soon to be chosen.

All Council members attend the weekly meetings, devoting approximately two hours to discussion and legislation.

The president, therefore, must be capable of serving as an efficient and objective chairman. He sees that all facts of an issue are presented, and, after allowing ample discussion, obtains the vote of the Council.

President

In order to fulfill this duty, the president must be familiar with the issues under discussion, which may require personal interviews the appointment of a special committee.

He also makes decisions on his own authority between regular meetings. It is his duty to convey the reasoning of the Council in matters of policy to the student body, and to maintain and strengthen relations between administration, faculty, students and alumni.

He works closely with student leaders, receiving guidance on Council plans, aid in projects and activities and encouragement and information on Council problems.

Veep

As the president's "right hand man," the vice president must be thoroughly acquainted with parliamentary procedure, and must assist the president and other Council members in projects and committees. He works in close association with the president.

The Council secretary's main duty is to maintain all records of proceedings and correspondence. The secretary keeps files of organizations' constitutions, and works on a great number of projects throughout the year.

The comptroller, the Council's "financial wizard," has the job of checking invoices and reports, writing requisitions and making analyses.

Bookwork

In order to handle the bookwork involved, the comptroller must have at least one year of accounting. He serves as the liaison between the Council and the University's treasurer, disbursing office, cashier's office and business office and stores.

He is responsible for requisitions from organizations handled by the Council. He carries on extensive correspondence regarding requisitions and business inquiries, and serves on Council committees, especially those dealing with budget and financing.

The comptroller accompanies the Council president to the budget hearing, and submits budget proposals for the following year.

Advocate

The Council advocate is in charge of elections. He handles the pre-election forum, selects and heads the elections committee and swears in new officers. He also aids organizations in the preparation of their constitutions, inspects new constitutions and presents them to the Council. He has close contact with Dean Burnice H. Jarman, chairman of the Student Life Committee.

Sail Promises 'Fun For All'

by Bunny Miller

• JOE HINCE proudly announces, "You students who were present at last year's Colonial Cruise need no further enticement to attend this year, and I promise even bigger and better facilities."

Joe's co-chairman, Beverly Borden, agrees, with the comment, "People will really be sorry if they don't come."

The Cruise welcomes students, faculty and friends of the University. Tickets are now on sale in the Student Union. Selling for $1.50, they are free with a Campus Combo. Children under twelve are admitted free.

Sponsored by the Campus Combo, the Cruise will sail April 28, leaving at 2 p.m. bound for

Student Bar

• THE STUDENT Bar Association will hold a professional meeting in Lisner lounge April 25 at 8 p.m. Senator Joseph O'Mahoney, Democrat of Wyoming, will speak. His topic will deal with the legal aspects of "bigness" in corporate size, with special reference to the recent case of General Motors. Coffee and doughnuts will be served.

Marshall Hall. Two boats will make the return trip, one at 5:30 p.m. and one at 10:30 p.m.

Bruce Mencher and Herb Silver, chairmen of the entertainment committee, promise a full day of fun for all. The Traveling Troubadours will sing, and two outstanding acts, from the All-U Follies will appear. A huge faculty skit will no doubt provide real enjoyment for all students.

Games will be offered, including softball, horseshoes, and relays.

Bernie Passeltiner, publicity chairman, announces that children under twelve will be well taken care of by experienced "kiddysitters." From these children a "King and Queen of 1957" will be chosen and crowned.

Follies Takes 'Grand Tour'

• THE THEME of this year's All-U Follies is "A grand tour of New York City."

The tour will be guided by Jerry Osborne who will sing and dance in the role of a newsboy. Among the acts to be presented in the Follies performance April 27 will be a "ballet" by members of the football team.

Other acts scheduled for the night include scenes from the movie "Stalag 17," and the Broadway musicals "Guys and Dolls" and "Damn Yankees"; a hula number; some tap routines by Bonnie Borden, Edna Runswick and Tom Pence; imitations by Roscoe Sweeney and Chuck Garris and an Oriental dance done by Siegrid Weeks.

The entire show is being coordinated by Ed Ferero, Verlyn Brown and Beverly Borden. Tickets to the All-U Follies may be obtained with a Campus Combo or for $1.00 or $1.50 in the Student Union and Lisner Auditorium now.

Reduced rates will be given to those owning activity books. Organizations wishing to reserve blocks of seats should contact the Lisner office as early as possible.

Group Practices For Tryouts Now

• CHEERLEADERS Tryouts are being held in the gym from 4 to 6 p.m. weekdays through April 23. Although the practice sessions have been under way for a week, Helen Niles, captain of the cheerleaders, says that new people are welcome. She added that one male, at present, was trying out, and she hoped this would serve as an incentive to others.

Cheerleaders are selected by judges chosen by the cheerleader's captain. The names of judges are not announced until the day the cheerleaders are chosen.

This year's cheerleaders include Beverly Alexander, Julie Cairns, Ruth Berryman, Loydell Jones, Betty Kolonia, Helen Niles, Betsy Silver and Inez Tonelli. The girls take part in all pep rallies, football and basketball games.

Clubs Hold Joint Affair

• THE FACULTY WOMEN'S club of the University and the Campus club of Maryland University held a joint program and reception last Friday in Lisner auditorium.

A book review was presented by Mrs. Grace Jordan of her book, "Life Below Hell's Canyon."

The Faculty Women's club held a reception in honor of the Campus club after the dance presentation.

Mrs. Jordan was honored in a luncheon prior to the program in the Faculty club. Attending the luncheon were Mrs. Cloyd H. Marvin, Mrs. Wilson Elkins, wife of the president of Maryland University, Mrs. O. S. Colclough, Mrs. B. H. Jarman, Mrs. J. E. Buchanan, Mrs. Glen Beck, Mrs. Gordon Cairns, Miss Virginia Kirkbride and Miss Elizabeth Burtner.

Lambert Goes To Forensic Meeting

The congress, held at the Hotel Sherman in Chicago, April 12, 13, and 14, was designed to afford students an opportunity to put their forensic talents to practical use in politics and legislation. The overall problem before them was "The Problem of Freedom of Speech in a Democracy."

Registering as conservatives and liberals, the students formed parties which caucused to select candidates for speaker and for clerk of the assembly. Once the two officers were chosen, the assembly delegates split into committees under the following topics: the role of controversy; censorship and limitations on freedom of speech; the responsibility of ethics in the exercise of freedom of speech; academic freedom.

Council Explores Methods For More Effective Presentation

• THE STUDENT COUNCIL committee for amending the articles of student government is exploring ways of providing more effective representation on the Council.

Two plans are being considered. The first would replace the representatives of the Schools of Government and Education and the Junior and Columbian Colleges with two members-at-large. The Schools of Engineering, Law, Medicine and Pharmacy would retain their individual representatives.

This representation has been countered with the second plan, that school representatives still be selected, but that they be chosen by the entire student body instead of by members of their respective schools.

The difficulty raised by members of the Student Council graduating from the University but retaining their offices is also being considered by the committee. One method of discouraging this practice is the suggestion that a graduating member be considered for censure by the Council.

A proposal for increasing Council attendance at meetings is to make a member eligible for censure or removal from office after missing five meetings without sending a proxy.

An amendment has been approved by the Council for the consideration of the student body, which would require that the secretary send copies of the Council minutes to all campus organizations who requested them.

There is also an approved amendment to write the membership of Student Life committee into the articles of student government. These members are: the presidents of the Student Council, Omicron Delta Kappa, senior men's honorary, Panhellenic Council, Inter-fraternity Council, Mortar Board, senior women's honorary and one member of the HATCHET board of editors. They are selected by the University President.

Speakers Discuss Subcontractors

• AN INSTITUTE ON subcontractor problems will be held in Lisner auditorium, Friday, from 1:00 to 6:00 p.m. and 7:30 to 8:15 p.m. and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

A part of the University's continuing legal education program, the Institute is sponsored by the University Law School and the Federal Bar Association. The program will consist of short talks by distinguished speakers drawn from industry, government and the practicing bar. They will discuss various facets of the legal problems of government contracts as they pertain to the subcontractor in his relationship both to the prime contractor and to the Government.

Topics to be discussed will include current congressional attitudes affecting small business and the subcontractor, labor provisions, the "Buy-American" act and nondiscrimination in employment.

What's doing... at Pratt & Whitney Aircraft

Professors practice what they preach... and vice versa

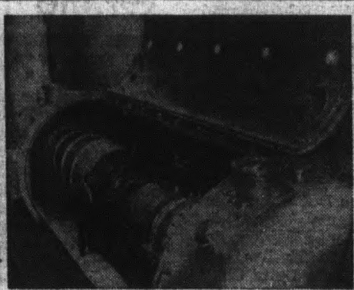

Following a practice of twenty years, Pratt & Whitney Aircraft will again welcome a group of college professors as members of the engineering staff during the coming summer months.

Last year our "summer professors" represented colleges from coast to coast. They tackled important projects in such diverse fields as instrumentation and vibration, combustion, compressible flow, and materials development. Despite the limited time available to these men, they made significant contributions to our overall effort.

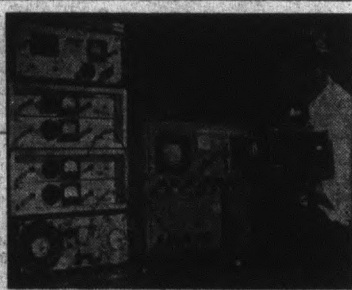

Though it was to be expected that both the company and the participating professors might benefit directly from such a program, the sphere of influence has been much broader. The many students who are taught by these professors during the college year are sharing the ultimate benefits... profiting from lectures that are sparked by the kind of practical experience that can be gained with a recognized industry leader like Pratt & Whitney Aircraft.

Several "summer profs" voluntarily spent part of their time conducting refresher courses for P & W A's young engineers.

One assignment involved a comprehensive survey of equipment for the expansion of high-altitude test facilities in Willgoos Laboratory, the world's most complete, privately owned jet engine lab.

Technical contributions were varied. Worthwhile assistance was given in vibration and instrumentation studies.

World's foremost designer and builder of aircraft engines

Honorary Initiates 13 Engineering Students

● SIGMA TAU, ENGINEERING honorary, will initiate 13 new members tomorrow night in Lisner auditorium.

The annual banquet and ball will be held this Saturday at the Cloud Room of National Airport.

The primary purpose of Sigma Tau is to further the engineering profession and to raise the integrity and standards of the profession through its members. As an honorary society, many of Sigma Tau's activities revolve around the scholastic needs of the students in the School of Engineering.

Initiates must be in the upper third of their class, juniors or seniors in the School of Engineering and have the approval of three professors of the school. Dr. Ralph E. Gibson, director of the Applied Physics Laboratory at John Hopkins University, was initiated as an honorary member March 21. Dr. Gibson, a former chemistry professor at the University, served as the first director of research for the Allegany Ballistics Laboratory.

Sigma Tau initiates are Jayant Kamut, Kanane Okamoto, Subbish Sankaran, Gope Hingorani, Ron-old Kransdorf and Richard Brown.

Neophyte Team

• WITH SPRING, bursts of spirit hit the campus. Most students are awakened out of the mid-winter slump and seniors are moved by nostalgia to really get out and support things in one last final fling.

We're in favor of the guys who are supporting the new embryo rowing team. With nothing but their own interest and enthusiasm they have given athletics a shot in the arms.

Much of the credit for helping them goes to IFC and Panhel. The donations collected at Panhel and IFC Sings and the sheekles that are expected to roll in from the fraternity benefit parties Saturday night, are helping to pay for the shell and oars that will enable the team to get on the water.

The HATCHET would like to take this opportunity to give the Greeks on campus a well-deserved vote of thanks, not only on behalf of the team but because of what they are doing for the school. Such a sport will attract new students to the school, it will help put the University on the map water-wise.

We only hope that the University officials take note of these students, both the ones participating and the ones who are making it possible for them to participate. We are looking forward to the day when this embryo team will be a school-wide activity recognized throughout the collegiate world.

And the Potomac Boat Club and Lt. Ron McKay also are in line for thanks for their donations of a free berth for the shell and five afternoons of free coaching each week. And the members of the Washington Rowing Association have been constant urgers and helpers. Vincent De Angelis, Intramural Director, has taken the overhead worries over in his capacity as faculty adviser.

To have gained all of this support after starting with no money, no help, no equipment, and apparently no future, this group of guys has really made the grade.

The Informer

by Mary Lou Bishop

Roses are red,
Violets are blue.
Everyone's running.
Why don't you?

• THE STUDENT COUNCIL voted on the night of April 5 to open petitions for Student Council elections. And on the morning of April 6, the petitions started to roll in. At the end of last week, thirteen petitions had been received; with nine days left, rumors are flying.

Joe Hince, who was through with the college game for ever in February, was the first to petition for president. He made up his mind just in time to withdraw his name from the race for IFC prexy. Bruce Mencher followed the leader as soon as he got the word that the rumor re Bob Gray's entering the race was just a little ruse to raise the collective University blood pressure. Earl Smith has yet to sign the dotted line, but he has committed himself. My, my. We haven't had three people running for president since 1953 and there's a veritable slew of other possibilities.

Person who would run to constitute effective opposition—Dick Giesler.

Person who would run if eligible—Jim Newheiser.

Person who should run if not so busy—Bev Borden.

Person who might as well run (you can't keep a good man down forever)—Ed Crump.

Person willing to take over office (in case of death, etc.)—Conrad Tuohy.

Skip Maraney's planning to run for veep. Dick Nelson has decided he's too busy so he must have calmed down since the Booster chairman was chosen.

Jerry Reinsdorf, current advocate fulfilling a mid-year vacancy, will try to capture the post for '56 and Bernie Passeltiner has petitioned for publicity director, a job he handled very capably last summer as acting director. You can't beat experience, but that's not to say someone won't try.

Karin Floyd is up for secretary and it's a pretty sure bet that Ruth Reagan, the present assistant, will enter her name soon. Herb Silver and Ed Crump have filed for member-at-large. There's also a strong possibility that Eugene Lambert, star debater, will join them.

Helen Niles has petitioned for activities director and Fay Callaway for School of Education Representative. Buck Offutt hasn't petitioned yet but he's sure to try for the Education job.

Junior College representative, the only joy open to freshman politicos, is already sought by Betsy Evans, Frank Gregory, Meredith Eagon and William Raup, with Eldon Miller sure to join the mob.

Petitions we think we'll see soon: Carolyn Cronin for freshman director; Bobby Holland for Columbian College representative; John Fisher (Student Union manager) for SU chairman; Tom Smith and Eugene Horowitz for School of Government representative.

(All tipsters may phone in info between 1 and 5 p.m. on Saturdays at ST. 3-0257. Sources will be kept strictly confidential.)

Council Capers

by Doris Rosenberg

• SHOULD SCHOOL REPRESENTATIVES to the Student Council be done away with and replaced by more members-at-large? This was the major issue raised and debated at great length last Wednesday at the Council's weekly meeting.

One of seven constitutional changes proposed by the Constitutional Revision Committee, this proposal would involve half of the University divisions—Junior College, Columbian College, School of Education and School of Government. If this plan passes, these schools will no longer have a special delegate to the Council; the duties presently performed by these school representatives will be taken over by two additional members-at-large elected to the Council.

Not Distinct Division

The main reason given for this proposed change is that these four schools are not really separate distinct divisions, and as such, do not require special representatives on the Council. The other four schools—Engineering, Law, Medicine and Pharmacy—would not be affected by this plan, because they are actually separate divisions, each having an active sub-council, separate building and professors, and an awareness of individuality.

Another reason why representatives of those "indistinct" schools are objected to is that they are not really representative, because not enough students vote. Dick Sincoff, the present Member-at-Large, said he felt that "three members-at-large would be more representative" of the school.

Council Opposes

Most Council members, however, seemed opposed to this idea of eliminating four school representatives. Arguing against the new change, Freshman Director Bev Borden suggested that the election of school representatives could be thrown open to the entire University vote, since these students would know the candidates as well as the students of the different schools. Miss Borden also said that the school representatives serve as "a direct contact with the faculty" and perform many necessary functions. "I just can't see the Student Council without school representatives," she concluded.

The remaining proposed changes were generally accepted by the Council, with little or no opposition. A final vote on these changes will be taken at a future Council meeting.

Pi Delta Epsilon

• PI DELTA EPSILON will meet Thursday at 9 p.m. in the conference room of the Student Union annex.

by Hester Heale

• GO, DELTS, GO... congratulations from Hester on winning the Sing, also to PhiSig and SAE... good work, men.

Kappa Sig entertained the cast of "Plain and Fancy" after the Sing. Over 200 people partying at the house, singing KS songs and living... On Sunday the brothers had an indoor picnic with SK. The picnic took place in the big living room, and KS furnished imported ants for the occasion.

At the Phi Sig party on Friday night, a riotous chug-a-lug contest between ex-Marine pledge Bill Staunton and ex-Marine T. P. Forbes, KS, high-lighted the festivities. The halls rang with the usual R & B music and group singing. At the Phi Sig tables at the I. F. C. Prom were KD Kathy Denver with Jim Biller, Chi O Kitty Maddock with Jim Newheiser, PIPHI Jolene Oakes with Chuck Forbes, Pi Phi Ruth Berryman with Tom Hand. Crepe hangs on the hallowed picture of "Smilin' Ed" Turco, who has been summoned to the front lines by his friendly draft board.

Sigma Nu held a Congressional Reception on Sunday afternoon, with guests and loyal Sigma Nu's present to toast the Brotherhood.

The notoriously great PIKA-AEPI blast at the Pike house continued Friday night at the AEPI house, as the AEPI's celebrated their second consecutive winning of the I. F. C. scholarship award.

PINNED: Sally Fillipovich, DG, to Sigma Nu Larry Chlaupke.

DG Bunny Miller's weekly (?) parties are becoming a tradition among her sorority sisters. SX Wiley Barrow and Delt Mike Tym learned card tricks from DG June Ross at the last party... but Pike McLindon was last seen still looking for the house. Good luck, Bob.

Strong Hall's gay, mad sixth floor now has a television set, which will add zest and zing to its frequent parties. The set belongs to Margaret Kraus.

In case you're interested, there are only 21 more days of class after today, and it's six weeks until Ocean City. Just in case you're interested, that is.

Toodle.

Letters to the Editors

To the Editors of the HATCHET:

The IFC and I would like to thank Carole Hesse for pinch-hitting for Milton Q. Ford as emcee during the second half of the IFC Sing. Since we were not able to contact Carole until nearly noon on Friday, the day of the Sing, we feel especially appreciative of the fine job she did!

Jack Grehore,
1955-56 IFC President

To the Editors of the HATCHET:

Since the new Colonial Booster Board will soon be selected, I feel this is an opportune time to answer the various questions concerning the seating situation at various games this past year. As most students probably do not know, the Seating Chairman begins early in the summer to work out an arrangement with the Athletic Department for the Booster Seating Section. The department decides on how many seats Boosters can have, and the Booster Board sells books accordingly.

The main problem seems to stem from the need of a gymnasium here at G. W. The Athletic Department and Boosters do their best to provide the student body with the best seats possible. The situation at the "home game" at Maryland last fall was unavoidable. The Maryland officials informed the G. W. Athletic Department that all seats on the fifty-yard line (which is the regular Booster Section) were sold to Maryland's season ticket holders. Therefore the Booster Section had to be between the twenty- and the thirty-yard lines. Maryland and Boosters provided ushers at that game.

There has been comment on the seating situation during the basketball season. Seating at Uline Arena was arranged as usual, with a Booster Section, and ushers provided by the arena. The biggest complaints seem to be about the games at Washington-Lee high school. This problem is beyond the control of Boosters and of the Athletic Department. As G. W. rents the facilities, we have no right to reserved seats. Mr. Farris of our Athletic Department did all he could to have the W-L officials change their policy—but to no avail. Therefore, there could be no Booster Section at the W-L games.

Two games were held at the Fort Myer gym. There, the University was allowed only 700 seats for students, and Boosters was allowed only 350 of these. These games had originally been scheduled for W-L, but were switched to Fort Myer to have at least a small amount of reserved seats for students. Winter Weekend was given these 350 seats for the Maryland game, consequently there was no Booster Section as such. It was decided that since most Winter Weekenders would have Combos, and therefore Booster Books, the one section would serve for both.

As retiring Chairman, I recommend the new Chairman begin immediately to arrange the seating for 1956-57. If the situation at W-L is not improved, and if the Boosters cannot attain more seats at Uline, I suggest that Boosters sell less books, and have only one seat per person. This means that Boosters will have to run on a smaller scale; less shakers, less noisemakers, small trophies, cutting out many of the events which Boosters has traditionally sponsored to build school spirit.

Joan Duke Gates,
Chairman, Colonial
Booster Board

"If you want to improve your daily papers, why don't you drop out of school for a few days?"

Supervia Learns With Students; Plans Trip To California Soon

by Susan LeFavour

• AFTER TEN YEARS at the University Senor Rafael Supervia still considers himself "a student of the Spanish language studying together with his students." Little did he think twenty-five years ago, when he received his law degree from the University of Madrid, that he one day would be a professor in an American university. Born in Valencia, a province in southern Spain, he began his law practice there in 1928 and became active in politics at the same time. He was elected to provincial assemblies and then became Secretary General of the Izquierda Republicanas, a political party equivalent to the progressive branch of the Democratic or Republican parties in the United States.

At the end of the Spanish Civil War in 1939 Senor Supervia left the country and sailed from Valencia for Orleanville, Algiers. In the spring of that year he went on to Paris and later he and his wife sailed for Mexico, but instead stopped at the Dominican Republic where they made their home for five years. Senor Supervia went into law practice with a Dominican lawyer and edited a newspaper, Democracia, for other Spaniards living in the Caribbean area. Senora Supervia started el Instituto Escuela and her husband taught history and literature.

In 1945 Senor Supervia came to the United States for medical treatment and while here he met professors from the University who suggested that he look into a teaching position here. He went back to the Dominican Republic, closed his affairs there, and he and Senora Supervia came to Washington.

Again and again the Senor has expressed his gratitude to University officials for asking him to become part of the "University family." He became a citizen of the United States last year.

As Associate Professor of Spanish, Senor Supervia teaches both beginning Spanish and advanced courses in Literature. He is very interested in compiling an anthology of contemporary Spanish poetry for he believes that "poetry is the best way to reach the high tone of any language." He has written on literary developments for the Voice of America. To say that Senor Supervia believes a second language invaluable to anyone is an understatement. Not only for those who will actually use a language other than their own for their business, but because it gives an understanding of other countries, does he consider linguistic knowledge profitable.

He has traveled through most of the Eastern United States, but a trip to the Southwest is something he plans to take next. California would be his first stop, particularly because at the beginning of this century a blight practically wiped out the orange groves of Valencia and the people of California sent graftings of their trees to the orange growers in Spain. Senor Supervia would also like to see the architecture and countryside of this part of the country which so resembles his native province.

Gardening is his favorite pastime and as he says, "in the United States one has to become a gardener out of respect for his neighbor." He enjoys the "spectator side" of sports and says when it comes to food it is very rare that he relishes a native Spanish dish. Says he, "My wife and I are thoroughly enjoying our life in America and partake in all phases of its life."

PHI BETA KAPPA, I LOVE YOU!

Once there was a Chi Omega named Alfreda Pectate who was beautiful and well-formed and wore clothes of the most tasteful cut and smoked the gentlest of all cigarettes—Philip Morris, of course!—and had, in addition to these admirable qualities, a brain so massive and retentive that she used to read the Britannica just for kicks.

Alfreda had one great ambition: to be elected to Phi Beta Kappa. Consequently she was all a-dither when she heard a rumor one night that a man from the Phi Beta Kappa selection board was coming over to the Chi Omega house to interview her. Being all a-dither, Alfreda sat down and lit a Philip Morris, as she always did when she was all a-dither, for gentle Philip Morris, as wise Alfreda knew, is comfort to the troubled, balm to the beset, and a haven to the vexed. But gentle Philip Morris, as Alfreda, with her mighty intellect, was well aware, is not only a cigarette for times of stress and strain, but also the perfect accompaniment to happiness and light. For gentle Philip Morris is sunny and cheery and jolly and merry and yummy! All this Alfreda, with her giant cerebellum, knew.

By and by there came a loud, masculine knock on the door, and Alfreda, composing herself, went to answer it. "Won't you come in?" she said to the man outside. "I am Alfreda Pectate."

"And I am Ed Fester," said the man, entering with a friendly smile. Ed had found that a friendly smile was a great asset in the Venetian blind game, which happened to be Ed's game. He had nothing to do with Phi Beta Kappa; he had come over to see about a new blind for the house mother's bedroom. But, of course, Alfreda knew nothing of this.

"Do sit down," said Alfreda.

"Thanks, hey," said Ed. "But I can't stay long."

"Of course," said Alfreda and proceeded without delay to demonstrate how wide and comprehensive was her learning. "Deer," she said, "have no gall bladders."

"Deer," she said, "have no gall bladders."

"Is that so?" said Ed, who until this moment had believed deer had gall bladders.

"Ben Jonson," said Alfreda, "was buried in a sitting position."

"Hmm," said Ed.

"Fortnight" is a contraction of "fourteen nights," said Alfreda.

"What do you know!" said Ed.

"Many people think it is forbidden to wash an American flag," said Alfreda. "That is not true. It is perfectly proper to wash an American flag."

"Learn something every day," said Ed.

"The smallest fish in the world," said Alfreda, "is the Pandaka Pygmaea, which is under a half inch when full grown."

"How come they buried that Jonson sitting up?" said Ed.

"It's terribly crowded in Westminster Abbey," said Alfreda.

"Oh," said Ed.

"Ann Boleyn had six fingers on her left hand," said Alfreda.

"Heavens to Betsy!" said Ed.

"Are there any questions you'd care to ask me?" said Alfreda.

"Just one," said Ed. "How big is your house mother's window?"

A tear ran down Alfreda's cheek. "Well, that's the way it goes," she sighed. "You work and slave and study and then they catch you on a trick question! . . . Oh, well, that's life, I guess."

Forlorn and bereft, she rose and shambled to her bed and fell upon it and wept for several days. But finally she pulled herself together, and today she is with Byrd in the Antarctic.

H.E.W. Official Talks To New Counselors

• HENRY REDKEY of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare will speak on "The Rehabilitation Center" at a meeting of the University's Rehabilitation Counselor Training Program, Thursday.

Mr. Redkey is chief of rehabilitation facilities in the department's office of vocational rehabilitation. The meeting will be held at 2 p.m. in room 2107-D of the University hospital.

Offices Move Over Easter

• A NUMBER OF changes in offices and personnel have taken place during the Easter holidays around campus.

The University Hospital has appointed Robert M. Thompson as director of food service.

Mr. Thompson, a graduate of Cornell University, where he studied institutional management with a major in foods work, comes to the University from Hot Shoppes, Inc.

Three University offices have moved around; public relations has moved into new headquarters on the second and third floors of Building S, 2025 H Street; Army logistics is switching from its present cramped offices at 2018 I, former offices of public relations, and the alumni association; and the alumni association is now occupying the former stonping grounds of Army logistics at 708 22nd Street.

Rehabilitation programs have been helping the severely handicapped in physical, psychological, social and vocational adjustment for the past thirty years, Mr. Redkey states.

The rehabilitation center was developed following World War II to serve the vast number of men and women handicapped in the war. There are now between sixty and seventy-five such centers in the United States.

The staff of a representative rehabilitation center is composed of doctors, psychologists, occupational and physical therapists, social workers and vocational counselors and instructors, who combine their efforts in what Mr. Redkey describes as a "team approach" to the problems of rehabilitation.

Mr. Redkey's address to the University training program will stress the purposes, standards and community relationships of the rehabilitation center.

Rain Postpones Softball; Track Slated Saturday

by Chis McAvoy

• OLD MAN WEATHER dealt the Intramural softball leagues a crippling blow last Sunday as all games were postponed due to rain and wet grounds. The games that were to have been played on April 15 will be played at a later date. Games this Sunday will follow the planned schedule for April 22.

Softball schedules are now available in the Intramural Office indicating game time and playing field location.

The Intramural track meet will be held this Saturday at the Western High School athletic field, located at 39th Street and Reservoir Road, starting at 1 p.m. Five men are required in order to qualify for team points.

In order to facilitate the administration of the meet, a tentative list of the participants and their events should be turned in to Mr. DeAngeli by Thursday. An individual may enter the following combination of events: 2 track-1 field-1 relay and football throw, or 1 track-2 field events-1 relay and football throw.

The track meet will consist of the following events: the 50, 100, 200 and 440-yard dashes; the 880-yard run and the mile run; the discus, shot-put and javelin; broad jump, high jump and pole vault; mile relay and football throw. Everyone should come out and actively support and participate in this meet, which is the highlight of the spring intramural season.

Attention to all duffers, dubbers, and par golfers! Intramural golf has been scheduled to run through April 29 at East Potomac, Course F. You can play at any time between now and the 29th, providing that you play with someone from another organization. The total low score of a four-man team will determine the mural champion, and an individual trophy will also be presented. Turn in the signed scorecards to the intramural office.

Badminton entries, a four-man team event, should be turned in by April 26. An unlimited number of entries is permitted with competition scheduled from April 30 through May 3.

Colonials Split With W. Virginia Taking Second on Austin Smash

by Paul Truntlich

• AFTER HAVING bowed to West Virginia 5-2 in the first game, the Colonials erupted for seven runs in the fourth inning to win the nightcap, 8-3, of the twin bill played last Saturday at Morgantown.

Bo Austin, who slowly but surely is working himself into condition after a football injury, put the finishing touches to the seven-run uprising with a grand-slam home run which soared over the left field wall, more than 390 feet from home plate.

The second game was a must for George Washington after losing the opener. Another loss would have virtually eliminated their chances for the Southern Conference Baseball Championship. The picture looked very dim, however, with Steve Bauk dropping the first game, and Roger Turner and George Bickerton out with sore arms.

The chips were down as right-hander Stan Walowac took the mound in the second game. In his only other pitching appearance against Colgate, he wasn't particularly impressive. But Saturday was a different story. Walowac hurled a no-hitter for five and two-third innings before giving up back to back doubles to Ronnie Laneve and Ed Lenart in the sixth inning. In all, Stan gave up only three hits, walked seven but struck out five. In addition, he was the only player to get two hits, collecting two singles and driving in two runs.

G. W. went ahead with a run in the third on a walk to Cilento, a single to left by Walowac, and Reid's run producing single to right scoring Cilento.

Then came the big fourth. Looney started it all by reaching first on an error by the Mountaineer first baseman, Lenart. Hill also got on when shortstop Laneve threw wild trying to force Looney at second, and Colna walked to fill the bases. Cilento followed with a single to left scoring Looney, and Walowac chased home two more runs with another single to left.

Reid struck out, Henzes then walked to fill the bases again. Saffer popped out to the first baseman, but Austin cleared the sacks with his mighty home run hit scoring Cilento, Walowac and Henzes ahead of him to give the Buff an eight run lead.

In the opener Bauk pitched well enough to win most games, but Mountaineer pitcher Jim Heise was even more effective, limiting the Colonials to only three hits. Bauk pitched a seven hitter, but two unearned runs and other lapses in the field by his mates put the game beyond his reach.

After West Virginia tallied twice in the first inning, the Buff tied the score with two runs in the fifth. Hill walked and Colna was awarded first base on catcher's interference. Bauk singled in Hill for the first Colonial run while Reid produced G. W.'s second run with a single to right.

In the Mountaineer home fifth, however, West Virginia pushed across three runs to wrap up the ball game, winning 5-2.

Lack of hitting and shoddy fielding have marked the early Colonial games. G. W. could, and should, have swept the double header with West Virginia Saturday but for numerous lapses in the field. To make matters worse, the Buff have not been getting the timely hitting, or any kind for that matter, which is characteristic of a winner.

The Buff plays three games this week, conference games against VPI Monday and Richmond Friday, and a non-league game with Duke on Tuesday. The games with VPI and Duke are at home.
